 INFORMATION

- I. REQUEST OR ISSUE: Approve Eileen Coughlin Turnbull's donated public art piece, Protectors, as a "Legacy"/permanent addition to Lyons' public outdoor art collection.
- II. RECOMMENDED ACTION / NEXT STEPS: Approve Resolution 2020-150.
- III. FISCAL IMPACTS: As a donated piece, the artist waives compensation for the artwork. In turn, the Lyons Arts and Humanities Commission (LAHC) will commemorate the generous contribution with a permanent plaque that includes information on the piece and artist. The LAHC will also pay associated expenses related to installation and necessary maintenance. These costs will be expended from grants and LAHC's operating account, which is not part of the regular Town budget.
- IV. BACKGROUND INFORMATION: As part of its responsibilities, the LAHC facilitates the arrangement of temporary and permanent outdoor public art, through the heARTS of Lyons Outdoor Public Art Collection. Permanent, or "Legacy" pieces are those whose ownership has been transferred to the Town, by donation, purchase, or other negotiated agreement. Legacy pieces accepted into the heARTs of Lyons program becomes a permanent addition to the Town's art collection, which thereby permits the Town full authority and responsibility for the piece.

Each artwork proposal undergoes a review process by LAHC and Staff, which requires consideration for safety, durability, aesthetic and cultural suitability, placement appropriateness, associated costs and maintenance, and other public safety and well-being factors.

Eileen Coughlin Turnbull offered to donate her piece, Protectors, to be considered as a permanent piece for display within the Town of Lyons. The piece is made of concrete, hemp, and bronze, and is sealed and waterproofed for exterior hanging. It is 24" L by 34" H, weighing approximately 75 lbs. LAHC and Staff deemed Protectors as safe and durable, and an appropriate addition to the town-wide heARTS of Lyons collection.
